Water/Flood Damage

Water damage can arise from broken pipes, blocked drains, sprinkler systems, malfunctioning appliances, rain, snow, fire hoses and many other contributing factors. The appropriate treatment depends on the nature of the damage.

Some water carries contaminants and may be considered hazardous. Raw sewage and flood waters contain bacteria and other microorganisms which are extremely harmful to human health. Whatever the origin, Elite Restoration is trained and certified in the proper water removal, disinfecting, drying and repairing procedures to guarantee your property is restored properly, efficiently and safe for you and your family.

Fire Damage

We all know how destructive fire can be. However, fire isn't always what causes the majority of the destruction to your property. It's the smoke and the water from the fire hoses that firefighters use to combat the blaze that do the most damage to your property.

We know that it's the irreplaceable items in your home that you're the most concerned about. We have the latest training, technology and equipment to take pride in the preservation and restoration of your property. We will inventory, clean and safely store your property at our contents facility until the restoration of your home is complete.

Wind Damage

Wind has been known to cause damage to roofs, siding, windows and other types of property and structures. In some cases wind is followed by rain, hail or snow causing even more damage to your property.

Elite Restoration is your calm after the storm. Our experts are prepared to handle whatever damage is left behind. We will safely remove all fallen objects and eliminate the dangers to you and your property. Our experts will board up and secure your property from further damage and work with your insurance company through the process of repairing your damage.

Mold

While mold plays a positive role in making food like cheese and producing drugs like penicillin, some molds can be harmful if found in excess in an indoor environment. Mold can cause health issues and damage to your property. It is commonly found where moisture and or poor ventilation exist. Such as attics, bathrooms, kitchens and crawl spaces.

Mold becomes harmful when it is airborne and enters our lungs. Elite Restoration has trained professionals to handle the hazards of mold and remediate it to ensure your safety in your home.

With more than 40 years of construction background and experience, Elite Restoration is your first call for wind, water, fire, and any other property damage. At Elite Restoration we take pride in our workmanship and customer satisfaction. Our dedicated and certified team will restore your property fast and efficiently. With our fast emergency response time and our 24 hour emergency service, make Elite Restoration your first and last call when disaster strikes.
